Lower Risk				Higher Risk

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. The higher the Sub-Fund's position on this scale, the greater the possible reward, but also the greater the risk of losing money. We have classified this product as 5 out of 7, which is a medium-high risk class, due to the risks related to the currency market, derivative trading and leverage applied. This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions could impact the product's performance. The lowest category (1) does not mean risk-free.

This indicator is calculated using historical data of underlying investments that the specific Sub-Fund will be exposed to, which is not a reliable indicator for the future. Therefore, the risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time. The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for a period between 1 to 5 years. The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in earlier than the recommended period and you may get back less. You may not be able to sell your product easily or you may have to sell at a price that significantly impacts on how much you get back.

The following risks are materially relevant to the Sub-Fund:

- Foreign Exchange Risk: This risk exists as the value of the investments and assets of the Sub-Fund are influenced by world economic factors and are affected favorably or unfavorably by fluctuations in foreign currency rates, interest rates or other exchange control regulations when dealing with other currencies for trading, purchasing and/or selling its assets.
- Counterparty Risk: A counterparty may fail to pay the proceeds to the transaction placed on behalf of the Sub-Fund.
- Derivative Risk: Derivatives may be used to manage the portfolio efficiently. A derivative may not perform as expected, may create losses greater than the cost of the derivative and may result in losses to the fund.
- Operational Risk: Failures or delays in the operational process may negatively affect the Sub-Fund.
- Liquidity Risk: In difficult market conditions, the fund may not be able to sell a security for full value or at all. This could affect performance and could cause the fund to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.
- Emerging Markets & Frontier Risk: Emerging markets, and especially frontier markets, generally carry greater political, legal, counterparty, operational and liquidity risk than developed markets.
- ESG Investment Risk: A Fund which utilizes ESG criteria may underperform the broader market or other funds that do not utilize ESG criteria when selecting investments. ESG investments are selected or excluded on both financial and non-financial criteria. The Sub-Fund may sell a stock or other asset for reasons related to ESG, rather than solely on financial considerations. ESG investing is to a degree subjective and there is no assurance that all investments made by the Sub-Fund will reflect the beliefs or values of any particular investor. Investments in securities deemed to be "sustainable" may or may not carry additional or lesser risks.
